

CALL FOR PAPERS

13th AEMI Conference

Europe and migrations: the last ten years

Turin, Italy

September 23-26 2015

The Association of European Migration Institutions (AEMI) together with its local partner organization Centro Altreitalie – Globus et Locus announces a call for papers for the annual AEMI conference which will be held in Turin, Italy September 23-26 2015.

The theme of the 2015 AEMI conference is Europe and migrations: the last ten years. Since AEMI members come from various fields and are interested in different aspects of migration, the papers could cover a wide range of both historical questions and contemporary issues, including: identity (glocal identities: diasporas and the home country; intra European migrations and the European identity); intra European migrations or mobilities in times of crisis; migrants' bread (in many cultures bread, and food, best symbolizes migrants cultural heritage); Migration policies; migration studies; centers' best practices.

In order to apply, please provide a paper abstract (in English) with no more than 300 words and a brief biographic summary of no more than 200 words. The selection of papers will be done based on their thematic significance and academic quality.

DEADLINE: February 2015

Applications should be mailed at: redazione@altreitalie.it
